Il Comandante

NAPLES

Naples is a culinary mecca that lays claim to inventing pizza, but if you'd like to sample more sophisticated Neapolitan dishes, book a table at Il Comandante, the 10th-floor fine-dining restaurant at the top of the city's brand new Romeo Hotel. Despite the designer interiors, the menu is devoted to traditional, regional recipes and is based on seasonal ingredients sourced from the markets every day. Pre-dinner drinks at the chic Cristallo bar followed by the degustation menu (around €70) make for the ultimate Il Comandante experience, alongside the jaw-dropping views of Naples and Capri. JB
